Benjamin has also given permission to include contents from his essay on his relationship with his credit union, Acclaim FCU, and it reads as follows:

Above all, my credit union is convenient. I can rest assured that my money at Acclaim will be accessible whenever I need it. As a college student this fall, I will be able to use my ATM card at convenient surcharge-free locations on campus to withdraw money, and I will even be able to monitor my accounts online! Most importantly, friendly specialists at Acclaim are always willing to assist me with their valuable financial advice.

Thanks!
Benjamin Bucior
